Median Technologies to Host Webcasts Highlighting Strategic Advances Driving U.S. Deployment of eyonis® LCS

Webcasts on February 26, 2026, at 5:45 pm CET (held in French): sign-up link and 6:45 pm CET/12:45 pm ET (held in English): sign-up link

Sophia Antipolis, France: Median Technologies (FR0011049824, ALMDT, “Median” or the “Company”), developer of eyonis®, a suite of artificial intelligence (AI) powered Software as Medical Devices (SaMD) for early cancer diagnosis, and a globally leading provider of AI-based image analyses and central imaging services for oncology drug developers, today announced that it will host two webcasts on February 26, 2026.

The webcasts, titled “Transforming Lung Cancer Screening: Strategic Updates on eyonis® LCS,” will present the Company’s recent strategic milestones supporting the U.S. deployment and commercialization of eyonis® LCS, Median’s AI-based CADe/CADx Software as a Medical Device for lung cancer screening.

During the sessions, Fredrik Brag, CEO and founder of Median Technologies, will provide an update on major developments, including:

- FDA 510(k) clearance for eyonis® LCS, unlocking commercial rollout in the United States.
- The strengthening of Median’s U.S. footprint, with the establishment of Median Eyonis Inc.
- The appointment of Oran Muduroglu as President of Median Eyonis Inc. to lead U.S. commercial operations and oversee the market introduction of eyonis® LCS.
- The collaboration with Tempus, aimed at accelerating adoption of eyonis® LCS in the U.S.
- An overview of the U.S. go-to-market strategy, including commercialization priorities and operational readiness for deployment.

“The FDA 510(k) clearance of eyonis® LCS marks a pivotal turning point for Median,” said Brag. “This milestone unlocks access to the U.S. market—by far the largest and most strategically important market for lung cancer screening—and positions us to accelerate both the clinical and commercial deployment of our technology. With this achievement and the strengthening of our U.S. operations, Median is entering an exciting new phase of execution and growth.”
